

The creator of this recipe, from honestcooking.com, describes it as a boozy drink with a fruity, light taste. Similar to a Sazerac, this recipe is patterned after a drink he first had at a craft cocktail bar in New York City.

Billionaire Cocktail

Makes 1 drink

2 ounces (¼ cup) bourbon
1 ounce (2 tablespoons) fresh lemon Juice
½ ounce (1 tablespoon) simple syrup
½ ounce (1 tablespoon) grenadine syrup (use the good stuff; just pomegranate, sugar and water) ¼ ounce (½ tablespoon) absinthe
Lemon wheel for garnish

Combine all liquid ingredients in the shaker. Add ice to the shaker and shake until very cold. Serve in a coupe glass with the lemon wheel floating on top.

Note: The drink is good but strong and a tiny bit bitter. I would cut the lemon juice in half and add another tablespoon of simple syrup.
